

Big guns thanked for their help in title deeds saga

A saga that stretched over eight years is finally coming to an end, and for that Cornhill Street resident Dawn de Beer is extremely grateful.

Mrs de Beer recently wrote letters to the office of the MEC, Ravi Pillay, and the office of the President, thanking them for their assistance.

In a letter to the MEC, Mrs de Beer praised him and his staff for actually delivering on their promises.

The MEC's office did in six months what Mrs de

Beer has been waiting eight years for.

"You are the best MEC we have had and I cannot thank you enough. Your office does deliver," she said.

Mrs de Beer also thanked President Jacob Zuma and his office for their timely intervention and assistance in the matter.

The title deeds are done and ready to be handed out. Residents now wait for official word on when this will happen.
